

When asked, “Why are you running for city council?” I respond; I know we need responsible and reasonable ways to grow. I believe in preserving and protecting our heritage. I know that as a community we need to decide on projects and efficiently complete them. Most importantly, I love Hurricane.

I was raised in Hurricane by Kenneth and Leslie Hawkins. They taught me to value and love a good days’ work. I graduated from Hurricane High, served a mission for my church, married Erica and am working on raising two awesome boys.

Working for Evan Brown, John Wadsworth and my father taught me the value of becoming a hard worker. As an adult, I was able to manage Bramall Farms, work for Scholzen Products, and currently, I am self-employed.

I volunteered for 12 years with the Search and Rescue and enjoyed the opportunity to lead teams and serve my community. I have worked in scouting and continue to work with the youth in our community.

The list of candidates is full of amazing people. I would like to represent the silent majority for this coming term. Call me 435-773-5744 to discuss your thoughts concerning our town.
